Did you know that new underwear and socks are the most-requested but least-donated items at Catholic Charities? These basic items (new underwear, warm socks, a fresh diaper) are truly treasures to those who are living in poverty. The Society of St Vincent de Paul at St Philip the Apostle Parish is helping Catholic Charities, Diocese of Joliet by collecting the following NEW items for children and adults living in low-income households. All donations will be gratefully accepted, but we are focusing on the following items this year:

Boy's t-shirts/undershirts (all sizes) & Girl's underwear (sizes 2T - 16)

Boxes will be in the narthex the week of October 9-15.

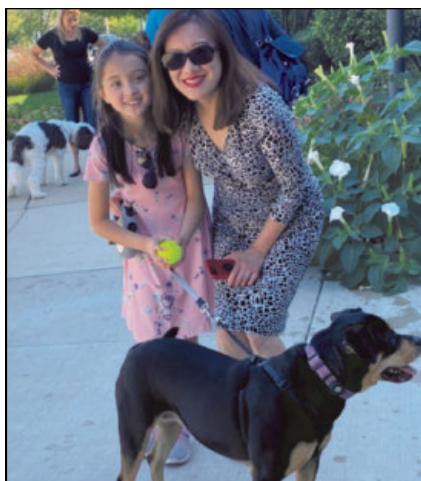

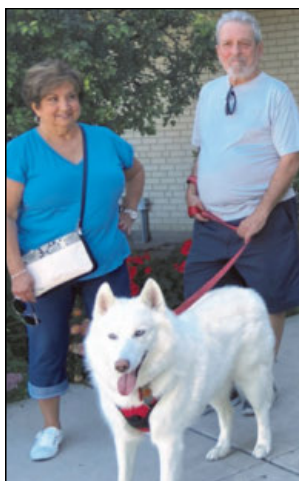

To donate through Amazon Wish List the page is: <https://www.amazon.com/registries/gl/guest-view/MINDOXGB119F>

St. Philip the Apostle Annual Pet Blessing

St. Francis of Assisi is known for his love of animals, and the recent pet blessing brought out parishioners who are also extremely appreciative of the love that their pets bring to their lives. Some sought a special blessing for a pet with medical issues, and all hoped that God would grant their special four-legged family members a healthy year. Deacon Phil pointed out that St. Francis loved animals so much because he sensed God's gracious love in creating them for all the good they provide to us. His exceptional love of God led to his great love of all creation.

Senior Socialites — All Seniors are WELCOME!

Our next Senior Socialites is this Thursday, October 12th at 12:30PM in Room 1. Excited to see all of your costumes as we celebrate Halloween. Or get festive by wearing anything black and orange. Looking forward to catching up, enjoying a homemade lunch, and following our Cruise Director with fun and games. If you have any questions, you can call Schubie at 630-543-1754.

Kindergarten is settling in nicely to our daily routines. We start the day with reciting a scripture verse. Our September scripture verse was "Kind words are like honey, sweet for the soul and healthy for the body." Proverbs 16:34 We, then, work on applying using kind words each day, while learning the Bible has two parts (the Old/ New Testament). Each month we change our scripture verse to connect to that month's activities. We finished up September with Johnny Appleseed, who was a kind and loving man that took care of God's creation. As we move into October, we will be learning to pray a decade of the Rosary every day, honoring the Rosary in the month of October. Our Math concepts include counting to 100 everyday and learning to subitize numbers 1-10. Our Language Arts concepts include learning the letter/sound correspondence; beginning/ending sounds; rhyming words; identifying big ideas and sequencing a story. Kindergartners are full of joyful energy and have a zest for making learning fun! Thank you for sharing your love of faith with our school children! We are blessed by your prayerful support!

Creative Ways to Pray the Rosary by Darcy Osby

Teaching children to pray the Rosary does not have to be monotonous and painful. Since every child interacts with the world around him or her differently, Howard Gardner's Theory of Multiple Intelligences can help catechists make praying the Rosary a positive experience. Here are some creative ways to engage the eight "signs" of intelligence proposed by Gardner. Try praying the Rosary using a different technique each month, or offer several choices for the class as you pray together.

Linguistic - Provide a written outline of the Rosary, including a summary of the mysteries and a copy of the prayers. Children can make posters that explain how to pray the Rosary and include the text for each of the prayers. Older children can write short reflections for each of the mysteries.

Musical - Sing the prayers. There are several melodies for singing the Lord's Prayer, and a beautiful melody for the Hail Mary can be found at the beginning of the hymn "Hail Mary, Gentle Woman" by Carey Landry. Note that singing slows down the prayers, which provides great time for reflection, but can quickly become tiresome for children. Singing just the first Hail Mary of each decade can be a good compromise.

Logical-Mathematical - The Rosary in itself follows a logical sequence for children who are number-oriented. Making rosaries with string and beads can be a fun activity during which children must count the beads and spaces.

Spatial - Print out a picture of the Rosary; children can color in each bead as they pray. You can also print out pictures of the mysteries for children to color as they reflect on that decade. Another option is to have the children draw illustrations for each mystery.

Bodily-Kinesthetic - Make a walking rosary by hanging papers that symbolize beads around the room. Children can walk from bead to bead as they pray the Rosary. If it is safe to do so, draw beads on the parking lot using sidewalk chalk. Another option is to make a giant rosary out of rope and slices of pool noodles. The children can take their places around the rosary and hold up the appropriate beads as they pray together.

Interpersonal - Divide the children into pairs or small groups that can find a quiet spot to pray together, taking turns praying each Hail Mary. You can also divide the class into five groups. Assign each group one mystery for which they would write a reflection and present it to the class. Each group can take a turn leading the prayers for their decade.

Intrapersonal - Provide time for the children to pray by themselves. Praying a decade of the Rosary can be a great quiet activity when a child finishes other work early. When praying as a large group, be sure to provide quiet time for personal reflection as each mystery is announced. A guided meditation can help children personally reflect on each mystery.

Naturalistic - Pray outside. If your parish has a garden or grotto, spend time praying there. If the garden or grotto has a statue of Mary, ask if you can plant flowers near the statue, or create a flower crown to place on Mary's head.

Children's Liturgy of the Word

We are excited to announce Children's Liturgy of the Word will begin Sunday, October 8th at 10 a.m. mass. It will typically be held at 10 a.m. masses on the second and fourth Sundays of the month depending on holidays. The goal for a separate Liturgy of the Word with children is to help them hear God's message in a way they can participate. This is a liturgical experience that opens young people to hear and respond to God's Word in a focused environment.

We want to:

Help children to have an age-appropriate experience of the Liturgy of the Word

Help children to apply the Word of God to their own experiences and actions

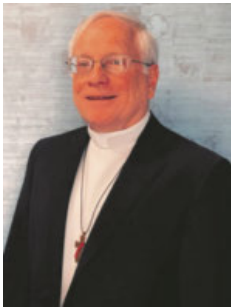

Help children to become closer to God

Help children to learn how to participate, both internally and externally, in the celebrations of the Mass.

All children 5-9 years of age can participate!

Mark your calendar for these 2023 - 2024 Children's Liturgy of the Word dates:

October 8 and 22; November 12; December 10; January 14 and 28; February 11 and 25; March 10; April 14 and 28; May 12

We hear in today's Gospel that Jesus is looking for disciples who will produce good fruit to help create the kingdom of God on earth. Disciples who recognize Him as the cornerstone of their lives. Discerning the significance of discipleship at St. Philip's is what we are considering as we delve further into Fr. James Mallon's Divine Renovation.

As mentioned in last week's article, Fr. Mallon has used Gallup research to assist his parish in developing a pastoral plan. The research revealed that healthy churches are clear about what they expect from parishioners, and are not afraid to communicate those expectations. It concluded that evangelical churches have been more successful than Catholic parishes in communicating expectations. It found Catholic parishes have exhibited a palpable fear that communicating to parishioners what is expected of them as members might be a turn off.

Fr. Mallon contends the opposite is true. He believes high welcome and high expectation are more respectful ways of responding to God's people, "We believe that God will work in you and work through you; we expect it, and you should too." Jesus' expectation was not limited to a simple claim of commitment to being his disciple. He admonishes "from everyone to whom much has been given, even more will be demanded."

Fr. Mallon notes that in the parable of the talents, Jesus clearly does not expect a moderate return on His investment in us, but a kind of spiritual venture capitalism, even if it means each disciple must take a risk. After much discussion, his parish determined it must make it obvious to each parishioner what the parish is expected to provide:

Dynamic and uplifting liturgies; a place to experience transformation to become more the person God has created you to be; where you will be valued and recognized as having unique gifts and talents for the service of God and others; where you will be given the opportunity to put your God given talents to help others and to make the world a better place; where you will be loved and supported in your spiritually journey regardless of the messiness and struggles of your life; where your needs will be listened to and addressed; where your input is valued; where your financial contributions will be honored and put to work for the building up of the Kingdom of God with transparency and accountability.

His parish also makes clear what it expects of parishioners:

To worship weekly; to commit to at least one program of faith formation per year; to serve the parish by being involved in at least one ministry each year; to contribute to the task of building community by seeing themselves as an integral part of parish life being intentional about reaching out and connecting with others; to give generously of their financial resources in proportion to what they have received giving out of gratitude.

Fr. Mallon acknowledges those expectations seem lofty, but quotes Michelangelo as saying, "The greater danger for most of us is not that our aim is too high and we miss it, but that it is too low and we reach it."

He feels it is tragic that most parishioners will never know the joy of being set free in a ministry that takes full advantage of their strengths, talents and passions. He acknowledges that discernment is needed to discover ways to create sufficient opportunities for personal and parish growth. The question arises as to how can we discover our uniqueness, strengths and innate talents?

Gallup research has found that having the opportunity to do what we do best is the leading contributor to engagement in parish life. Engagement is what Fr. Mallon believes drives spiritual commitment. We'll consider what engagement entails next week.

Please continue to consider what will drive your commitment to God and our parish. May you have a peaceful and tranquil week.

Just as with all of us change brings forth a new way of living. Change can be wonderful like a new job or an addition to our family. Change can also be painful, an unexpected set back, illness or even the death of a loved one. While it is important to celebrate and mourn when these occur, it is also important to keep moving forward in life, to learn and adapt to our new reality.

The leaves will be turning from green to red and yellow soon with autumn approaching. The change of seasons reminds us of the cycle of life. The mystery of the new birth that is inevitable for all of creation. Just as the trees let go of their leaves to bring new life in spring, we also at times give up some things in our lives so we may grow to newness of life.

With age and shifting priorities we leave behind some of the things that keep us from loving as deeply as we can. This change can bring a beauty to our lives that we have not seen before. This is called dying to self, when we die to self and let go of what we desire to the benefit of others, we grow into a new creation in the love we share. So as the leaves and seasons change in the cycle life we too change with the passing of the years to become a more complete version of our self's. Everything that occurs in life is in essence something to learn from, something that will in God's time allows us to be more empathic to others. This is because we all have similar experiences. Autumn can be a time of reflection to evaluate how we see these experiences in order to live more fully in the presence of God and those around us.

Peace, Deacon Sean

Baptism Information: Baptisms are celebrated on the second & fourth Sunday of each month. A pre-Baptism program must be attended by the parents. Please call the rectory to register for a program.

Marriage Information: Please call the rectory to make arrangements at least six months (a year is preferred) in advance of the wedding date. It is recommended you do not rent reception facilities until your wedding date is confirmed with the pastor. Your preferred wedding date may be unavailable, and we do not want you to lose your deposit with the reception venue.

Parish Registration: New families are welcome and are asked to register at the rectory. Also, previously registered parishioners are asked to notify us of any address changes.

Emergency Sick or Anointing Calls: Please notify us immediately of any serious illness in your family. If you have a hospitalized loved one who would like a visit, please call the rectory with contact information since the hospitals and hospices no longer notify parishes. Please do not wait until the last minute to have someone anointed. There are always accidents/emergencies, but sometimes there is less panic when the anointing can be done prior to someone passing.
